"I wanted a style that was elegant and classic, so I selected a French twist with a bit of height and added a few Stephanotis flowers. My stylist did an amazing job!"

"I've always pictured my hair to be half up and half down for my wedding and my stylist did that to perfection. From the romantic curls that hung down my back to the Gerber daisies placed delicately behind my ear, it was everything I ever imagined!"

"I always thought I'd do the classic 'half-up' hairstyle, but after a fitting, I realized I needed to show off more of the dress' lace and beaded front. I don't like wearing my hair up, so I thought this side-swept style with height and cascading curls would be the perfect fit—and it was!" *Photo by Milton Gil Photographers (miltongil.com). "I wanted my hair to be up, but in a low updo with lots of curls. I wanted to incorporate my veil and a flower, too. This created a simple and elegant look that I just loved!" *Photo by Sharp Images, Peter Sharp (sharpimages.com). "I am really not an updo person and I wanted to look like myself. I love long, loose waves. I decided to use hair extensions because my straight hair does not hold curls well, especially in hot July!"

"I have short hair, but wanted it down and long for my wedding. Being a bridal stylist myself, I knew I needed extensions. My stylist (and boss), Michelle, worked clip-in extensions into my natural hair. I loved how simple, soft and beautiful my hair looked."

JUNE 25, 2011 • SOMERSET, NJ

"Since my hair was a little too short to achieve the romantic look I wanted, my stylist added real human hair extensions to create a fuller bun. She side-parted and smoothed the front of my hair to show off my crystal headband."

ORLAND, ME

"I worked hard to grow out my hair for the wedding and asked for something simple, yet elegant. I ended up doing two styles. For our ceremony, it was styled down, loosely curled and worn with a veil to show off my romantic side. For our reception, it was put up tight. I used leftover flowers from my bouquets to show off a trendy, natural hair piece."

"I wanted a romantic summer hairstyle with flowing waves and a flower in my hair. Even though my hair was long, my stylist suggested extensions. This added fullness and really completed the look perfectly." Photo by David & Amy Lau Photography (dlauphoto.com). Hair and Makeup by Michelle Lo Conte, Pink Comb Salon (idohairandmake-up.com).

OCTOBER 1, 2011 • QUEENS, NY

"It rained on my wedding day, so the soft curls I had been anticipating were not going to happen! My stylist put in just the right amount of hold for my hair to stay in place to make sure the rain and wind did not ruin one of the best days of my life!"

SEPTEMBER 3, 2011 • BROOKLYN, NY

"My hair was shoulder-length, but I wanted an updo with height in the front. I wanted a vintage, yet classic look, so I wore a birdcage veil. The antique brooch on the fascinator was my grandmother's. She was with me on my big day."

"I wanted something soft and romantic, but not too fixed, so I liked that my stylist pulled a few pieces out and messed it up a bit. The style fit perfectly with my Jenny Packham gown." Photo by Josh Goleman (joshgoleman.com). Hair and Makeup by Julie Clark, Bella Donna Day Spa.

"Not only do I have very long hair but I have a lot of it, so I knew I wanted it all up! My hairstylist took my idea to a whole other level...I loved it!"

JUNE 17, 2011 • LONG BRANCH, NJ

"To match the simplicity and elegance of my gown, I wanted a classic, yet unique updo. The front was a simple side part, which helped to accent the crystals on the veil. The back added a twist of something special. Having the perfect updo helped me feel completely carefree for the rest of the day."

AUGUST 13, 2011 • ABERDEEN, NJ

"I got married outside in August so I wanted my hair pulled back and off my face. I also wanted a look that was soft, romantic and would last all day. My stylist exceeded my expectations and was able to turn all of my ideas into a masterpiece."
